The homes will be developed by Adani Group's Adani Township and Real Estate Company Private Limited, which is developing Shantigram, the largest integrated township in Gujarat.

"Age Ventures India, a private not-for-profit trust formed in association with HelpAge India, has sourced knowhow from Methodist Housing Association of UK to bring in the best-in-class designs and services required for senior citizens," Adani Group today said in a statement.

It said the Group, anticipating the needs of ageing elders who now want to lead an independent life with dignity, has decided to develop a world-class facility, matching the standards of similar retirement homes in developed nations albeit with a difference.

"Sensing the mindset of elders of India, Adani Group has decided to develop the retirement home as part of a larger mixed generation community, a concept that will replace isolation with inclusiveness," the statement said.

Age Ventures India would be solely responsible to provide various services including security. UNI KK SS AV2024
